

Edisto Island Open Land Trust

Legacy Live Oak Program

Live Oaks draped in Spanish moss are one of Edisto's enduring images. The Edisto Island Open Land Trust's vision is to restore the majestic oak trees along Highway 174 that have been lost over the years. The Legacy Live Oaks program provides a way to honor family and friends while contributing to Edisto's historic beauty. With a contribution of five hundred dollars, a Legacy Live Oak tree will be planted along Scenic Highway 174 on Edisto Island in honor of a loved one.

124 Legacy Live Oak trees have been planted in the program. These 15-foot tall oaks were planted along both sides of Highway 174 from the Dawhoo Bridge to the Edisto Island Open Land Trust office. The Edisto Island Open Land Trust has engaged a landscaper to maintain the trees and insure that they prosper in their new permanent home.

Each Legacy Live Oak donation of $500.00 is fully tax deductible as a charitable contribution. Each donor's gift will be recognized in Edisto Island Open Land Trust publications, and honorees' names are listed on a monument at the Edisto Island Open Land Trust's memorial site (a protected tract at the intersection of Highway 174 and Sand Creek).

Over the years, these trees will grow to create a magnificent green buffer, similar to the historic canopy that we see today along many of Edisto's roads. This is a lasting way to honor those who give meaning to our lives, while perpetuating a legacy for the future.
